DR. WILBUR R. CRAFTS

Effort Was Masterpiece And Was Heard With Great Interest By three weeks. Those Present.

Dr. Wilbur R. Crafts, Superinten dent of the International Reform Bureau, delivered an able lecture on "Battles Won and Battles On In State and Nation," at the First Presbyterian church on Tuesday. Only a small crowd was present, for the address, which was one of the ablest ever delivered in this city.

Dr. Crafts bears an international reputation as a reform worker, and his address along this line was heard MYRIADS OF FISH with great interest.

Theroughly informed as he is with reference to all national legislation especially that bearing on moral issues, his resume of what had been accomplished in the fight against gambling, impurity, Sabbath breaking and intemperance, was an inspiration and an assurance of ultimate victory.

He called attention to the fact that Kentucky is one of eight states that still permits race track gambling There is only one state and the District of Columbia that have Sunday laws.

The fight against impunity as a national issue must be mainly against the divorce evil. There would be no advantage in a uniform divorce haw unless it be on the high plane of the New York law which recognizes only one rightful cause for divorce.

The great temperance fight for the nation is the Sheppard-Kenyon bili now pending in Congress which prohibits the shipment of liquor into dry states or territory for unlawful

By banners, flags of a score of different nations stretched across the front of the church, he showed how many nations are united in the fight against opium and alcohol, as to its of the world.

He warned the temperance people especially of the awful blunder they make in putting wet men in office to enforce dry legislation and that laws passed meant not the winning but the beginning of the fight. In clos ing he urged all voters to send cards to Congressmen, importuning them to take an active interest in the pas sage of the bill before Cognress.

PREPARATIONS FOR "THE CITY BEAUTIFUL

Confederate Veterans to oHld Reunion in Macon in May to Be Royally Entertained.

When the Confederate Veterans gather in Macon for their annual encampment to renew once more the vows of friendship given each other in the dark days of the war between the states, the city will be a garden of flowers. Every color of the rainbow will meet the eyes of the heroes of Dixieland.

When the plans of the "City Beautiful" committee are executed Macon will be clothed in a dress of Henry Phillips and Dwight Pendlelovely blosso as Her parks, walks, ton bring home from Florida look driveways, I was and plazas will be like thirty cents when compared with one mass of changing hues. Even that mass of squirming monsters, back yards will be turned into gar- big and little, in that town branch

Resolved to carry out some new and novel ideas, the "City Beautiful" committee is preparing special de- water and a bream as large as signs to use where most appropriate. The basement of one of the larg- night. est buildings in the city has been rented and seed will be stored there until planted. Mr. Cecil Morgan, chairman of the "City Beautiful" committee has written to every member of Congress representing a Southern district asking that seed DELIVERS LECTURE be sent here as soon as possible.

Thousands of packages of seed from which will spring every flower blooming in May-should be in the hands of the committee in the next

Enthused by the fact that they have been asked to help boost the Re-Union, the school children of Macon have agreed to assist in beautifying the city. Seed will be delivered to the several school ouses and distributed among the oupils, just as soon as it reaches

SEEN BY JUDGE BENTON

Winchester's Other Noted Fishermen Are Made to Look Like Thirty FUNERAL OF MRS. Cents by Marvelous Story.

Since Judge Benton returned from Barboursville Wednesday afternoon. where he had been acting as Special Judge, he has been regaling Oscar Johnson, Jim Furniture Winn, Squire Hunter, Henry Bush and other fishing cronies with a remarkable fish

Cumberland river runs through Barboursville and the heavy rains lasting from Sunday at noon till Monday night had made a big tide in the river, and by noon Tuesday the river was a sure enough tream and was very muddy.

The town branch empties into the river, and at noon Tuesday as Judge Benton went to the depot to send an important telegram to Judge Evans-what it was about we don't know-possibly it related to the new jail-he saw that the river had backup the clear water of the town branch, and he imagined that this bayou must be full of fish that had ome into this clear water to escap the mud. of the river.

Fishing tackle was procured at the hotel to give this water a tryout. On the first cast the bait was taken not simply with a nibble, but with a lunge, and something that was sure heavy had taken it, but when an effort was made to draw in the victim escaped.

While rebaiting the hook Judge Benton happened to look intently into the water, and found it just teeming with fish, all sorts of fish big fish, little fish, medium sized fish pike, bass, new lights, bream, cats kittens and every conceivable fish some of them as large as a half grown boy.

There were enough fish floundering in that bayou to supply Prewitt Harris for a year, and they were large: than the ones he gets from Reelfort Lake. Jim Poynter and Cliff Owens never caught as many fish on one of their best days at Muddy Creek. The catfish were larger and more plentiful than the ones that Malcolm Royce and Uncle Bill Harris catch at the reservoir by moonlight. There were more fish there than Jim Winn and Doctor Stubblefield ever saw or dreamed of in Alabama.

The fish stories and pictures that f Barboursville last Tuesday.

The second bait that was thrown in was grabbed as soon as it hit the ginger snap was successfully landed.

This is a true account of what that he saw in a dream Tuesday

DIRECT PRIMARY LAW PASSED AT FRANKFORT

Presidential Prefe ence Clause is Stricken Out Because of News of Supporters of Tait.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 1 .- The Thompson Direct Primary Law passd the House and the Eaton Direct Primary Law passed the Senate Wednesday. The former passed by the vote of ayes 87, nays 0, while the latter received a vote of ayes 37, nays 0. As soon as the Thompson bill goes to the Senate and the Eaton Bill goes to the House, a joint confernce committee appointed to draft bill that will be acceptable to both branches of the General Assembly and the direct primary bill will be passed. The Presilential preference clause was stricken from the Thompson Bill before the passage.

The passage of the measures was ttended by many stirring incidents, as there was a determined opposition on the part of a number of Senators to the bills in the House and the Senate principally because, it is preumed, they thought that a delay of the passage of the bills would aid in passing other desired measures.

Opposed By The Cities.

The most determined opposition ame from the Senators and Representatives living in the large cities. with Senator Huffaker in the Senate as the leader. Every amendment offered by the opposition in the Senate was voted down, however, and the Eaton Bill came out of the parlimentary battle unscathed. while the Thompson Bill was only stripped of the sections providing for the selection of delegates to the National Convention, and the expression of presidential preferences in the primaries The Eaton bill contained no such provisions.

The opposition used every means possible to delay passage or recomit was finally put on its passage the week in any county was next in oropponents of the bill voted for it. der. It was passed.

There were determined efforts both REMARKABLE POWER in the Senate and House to except RED BIRD'S DAUGHTER local officers in counties having cities of the first-class from the Line Personalities came near being indulged in by the Senators from Jefferson county, but they were avoided and the passage of the bill was effected without personal bit-

> Senator Thomas said it was not question of blocking legislation: hat if legislation was being blocked, it was known who was blocking it. He said its was a question of doing what the people sent the members here to do. He said there should be no more delays and he wanted the principle put into a law. He added that Senator Salmon had hit the nail on the head in saving that the time had come when the poor man should have his rights.

Motion to Recommit Lost.

The motion to recommit the bill was lost-aves 8, navs 26.

Yeas 8; mays, 26.

When it was seen that the bill could not be recommitted then the fight was made to get through the amendments that would destroy the usefulness of the bill, but this plan was defeated as each amendment was voted down except those offered by Senator Eaton providing that school trustees be not nominated under this law The bill then passed 37 to 0.

Interests Combine For Bill

The big surprise of the session Wednesday was the combination of all the interests to put across the bill devised by the Prison Commission. The administration forces vere shattered by three Senator being absent. Senator Durham is il at his rooms in the hotel here. Senator Thomas, with his characteristic thoughtfulness, had passed a res olution offering sympathy for Senafor Durham. Senator Biggerstaff is ill also, and Senator Helm had not arrived.

As suddenly as if the Capitol had been hit by a bolt of lightning, the coupe of the interests was attempted und several Senators became a party to it innocently.

Prison Bill Called

Senator Graham moved that the rules be suspended, and called for Senate bill 42, the Graham prison bill, and put it on its passage. The bill provides for the election of prison commissioners from the railroad districts.

Senator Thomas said that he thought that snap judgment was being taken and the purpose of the bill was to thwart the wishes of the people of the state, and that it was he idea of the Prison Commissioners

Senator L. W. Arnett made a point of order that Senator Dowling was not talking to the subject. President McDermott held that he was and Senator Dowling continued with his speech, saying he had no favorite for prison commissioner, and while talking the hour for the special order arrived and the fillibuster was finish-

OF NIAGARA FALLS

Not One Person in Hundreds Begins Conservation of Natural Re-

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Feb. 1.-The verage man is apt to speak very glibly of so many hundred thousand iorsepower harnessed at Niagarra Falls, but it is doubtful if one person in a hundred begins to understand the tremendous conservation of natural resources effected at the Falls without interfering with the grandeur of the spectacle.

The 372,800 horsepower now developed at the Falls is the equivalent of 16,776,000 man-power working an eight hour day, or more than the combined strength of all ablebodied men in the United States.

Under the American-Canadian Treaty, promulgated by the two naions to guard the scenic beauty of the Falls for all time, only 56,000 cubic feet of water per second, out of a total flow of 240,000 cabic feet, may be diverted from the Niagara River for power purposes. But even with this restriction, when the treaty goes into effect the force conserved by falling water will the equivalent of 35,559,000 men working the average eight-hour day. Stupendous although this saving is, it is as nothing compared to the full strength of the Falls. The volame of water that will be permitted to run, so as to perpetuate the beauty of the Falls, is estimated to represent 118,680,00 eight-hour man power or about 18,000,000 more man power than there are men, women and children in the United States and all its possessions.

An enduring friendship is one of the possessions we should prize most in this day of selfish greed, personal ambition and business hoggishness. Mark Twain makes Pudd'n head Wilson say that "Friendship is one of the redeeming traits of human character." Mark goes on to say that "some friendships are of so strong and abiding and enduring a nature that they have been known to last a whole lifetime-if not asked to lend money."

Of course Mark was joking, as he joked to his last breath. What we started out to say was that there are modern Damons and Pythiases, just as unselfish, just as true, just as sincere as those heroes of old Syracuse to whom no sacrifice was too great that the one would not make it for the other. Our friends are known to us by the sacrifices they make for us, by the kindly deeds they do, by the words of encouragement they speak in times when such words help more than those who have never needed them can know.

An unselfish and sincere friendship is something to be valued, to be cherished, to be appreciated. Especially is this true of those who have been tested and have proved their worth, and these are by no means few in spite of the rush for wealth and fame of the present day. Mare Anthony spoke in volumes over the bier of Caesar when he said:

"He was my friend, faithful and just to me."

The fame of his oration over the body of his dead friend will last as long as types print that great speech. Antony with all his weaknesses, remembered his friend and his remembrance of that friend is now his chief claim to greatness. Let's all be Mare Antonys in that respect.

THE BOYS' WORK INSTITUTE

A group of Central Kentucky's finest and best men have at much trouble and expense planned a series of Boys' Work Institutes, which are now being held in the towns of Central Kentucky. One of these is to be held in our city, Saturday and Winchester should get much good from these meetings. Boys' Work problems of Winchester will be discussed. We have them, too, and we are not so sure that the problem lies with the boys always. Do our older people have the interest in work for boys that they should? Isn't it true that the majority of us have more care concerning the improvement of our live stock, of our farms and houses, than we have for our boys?

The superficialities of life make such large demands upon us that we do not have the time to be companions to our boys and help them fight out the battles of their youth.

The future of Winchester depends upon the crop of boys we raise. Ambitious, manly Christian boys make men who do things. The greatest wealth that any town or country can boast of is the progressive men in that community who do big things. Let us give more attention to the imprevement of our chief asset, the boys. Attend the meetings Saturday night and Sunday and learn about the best methods of Boys' Work, methods that have been successful in other towns like Win-
